WORLD COLORING MAP - NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC (NGCOLOR)

Product description

Looking for a fun activity to reduce stress and learn geography? Well you're in luck, because the cartographers at National Geographic have adapted our World for Kids Map to a black and white outline version that you can color at home. Color the places you've been, or the ones you dream of visiting, or color the countries randomly with pastel or bold colors. Spend a few hours or a few days to color the map. By the time you're done, you'll know a lot more countries than when you started.

The World Coloring map includes country flags that can all be colored along with a bonus full color letter size sheet that has all of the flags of the world you can use as a reference.
